

Unnatural Causes documentary screenings

“Take the first step in faith. You don’t have to see the whole staircase, just take the first step.”

Martin Luther King, Jr.

Get Involved! ANYWHERE is a great place to start.

If you’d like to volunteer to make a difference today, please contact:

The Asheville Buncombe Institute for Parity Achievement (ABIPA) 251-8364

- ABIPA focuses on eliminating health disparities that hurt people of color in the Asheville area.

Hands on Asheville

www.handsonasheville.org

- Asheville’s one-stop resource to help interested people get connected to volunteer opportunities. Register and select a project you’re interested in.

If you’d like to advocate for long-term solutions to help solve these problems for years to come, please contact:

Just Economics of WNC

www.justeconomicswnc.org

301-7291

- Just Economics is a grassroots, community organization based in Asheville. They educate, advocate, and organize for equitable economic conditions and a fair share for all in the prosperity of our region.
- Just Economics is currently working with the NC Justice Center on a state-wide campaign for paid sick leave for all workers.

Children First

www.childrenfirstbc.org

259-9717

- Children First works to improve the lives of children, youth, and their families. Volunteers advocate for public policy changes on issues of child poverty, health care, reforms in the juvenile justice system and more. Call or sign up on-line to join their advocacy network and let your voice be heard.

www.healthpartnerswnc.org

